E-learning programme

„Language Terminology and Interpretation Practice in Variety of Council Regulations for the Purposes of Application and Communication Competences"

Dear potential trainees, judges, prosecutors, judicial clerks and/ or any other professional judicial staff,

We would like to invite you to join us in a programme especially designed for you to be able to do something for your professional development, to improve, enhance and practice your English skills - to get an opportunity to acquire and use terminology relevant for legal professionals of the member states in meaningful dialogue and interesting authentic context, through focused linguistic units and strategic ideas of the legislative instruments of the European Union.

The projects will consist of a combination of

- a webinar
- online training with interactive activities
- videos, recordings
- a range of authentic material with emphasis on innovative IT solutions which offers distant learning to every busy judge or prosecutor in a relevant context.

There will be skills related to aspects of language and lexicology, but we will maintain a motivational element to keep you interested and as well as focused controlled discussion activities.

The topics covered by the project will be within the area of judicial cooperation in civil matters, mainly: MEDIATION with a range of interesting case studies.

Firstly you will undertake a short diagnostic test to make sure both you and we are aware of your language skills based on Common European Framework of Reference to Linguistic Competencies, then you will be offered a variety of relevant compulsory activities in an extent manageable by every busy judge or prosecutor with a wide range of optional activities offering an opportunity to develop and practice your language skills in an environment where learner autonomy is a factor.

The project will include 1 training webinar session and one moderate discussion session at B1 (up to B2 level) with optional training elements on C1 level of EFR for each module and 1 optional training session for C2 level for the module.

There will be two online sessions focusing on terminology acquisition and recycling and two will focus on case studies and linguistic comprehension of practical application of the relevant regulation within its language content.

The moderated discussion will focus on opportunities offered to the participant to answer questions and develop ideas directly related to the context of the module while using the linguistic resources acquired through the training sessions.

Duration of the e-learning module is

28 November 2014 – 20 December 2014

We do know it sounds almost scientific and very sophisticated but please do not hesitate to click on the link for

The test at any time after November 21, 2014, 9 PM CET to take the diagnostic test and sign up for the course - we will guide and teach you as well provide you with an opportunity to try something new and if you have any issues you can always talk to our team.
